Visitors to our website

When someone visits www.medaccess.org we collect standard internet log information and details of visitor behaviour patterns. We do this to find out things such as the number of visitors to the various parts of the site. We collect this information in a way which does not identify anyone. We will not associate any data gathered from this site with any personally identifying information from any source. If we do want to collect personally identifiable information through our website, we will be transparent about this. We will make it clear when we collect personal information and will explain what we intend to do with it.

Use of cookies by MedAccess Guarantee Ltd

As a result of new UK legislation relating to the use of cookies and similar technologies, cookies on websites can only be used with the specific consent of the website user. Cookies are text files created by websites that transfer information to your computer. Cookies allow websites to remember information about a user, such as a user's preferences when visiting the website. They are widely used to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site. MedAccess Guarantee Ltd does not use cookies to collect personally identifiable information about any user of the website. If desired however, it is possible to restrict or block the cookies we use on our website within browser settings. The 'Help' function within the browser should explain how to do this.
